

8th Nordic Conference for Philosophical Practice

INVITATION

Dear colleagues and friends,

we hereby would like to invite you to participate in:

The 8th Nordic Conference for Philosophical Practice

Title: What is good Philosophical Practice?

Idea: At this conference we will have various dialogues (based on different formats) and cases, projects and experiences presented which highlight the variety of our field. The goal is to investigate together and learn from each other what good philosophical practice might be about.

Date & Time: Saturday 21.04., 10:00—17:00 & Sunday 22.04., 10:00—14:30

Location: Håndverkeren Conference Centre, Rosenkrantzgate 7, 0159 Oslo/Norway (located in the very center of Oslo, not far from Stortinget subway station).

Participation Fee: NOK 500,- (incl. coffee breaks & lunches)

Organizer: Norwegian Society for Philosophical Practice (www.nsfp.no / styret@nsfp.no)

!SPECIAL! 20th anniversary celebration of the Norwegian Society for Philosophical Practice on Saturday night at the famous Frognerseteren restaurant, located at the “roof” of Oslo (NOK 600,- for a fine selected dinner). You are very welcome to join us at this special event, starting at 19:00!

For those participants who arrive on Friday 20.04., there will be an informal get together (not included in the participation fee), starting at 8pm at Håndverkerstuene, Rosenkrantzgate 7 (located in the building where the conference takes place).

For participation register here: www.deltager.no/philosophicalpractice

Those who want to contribute to the program can find the Call for Papers here:
https://drive.google.com/file/d/1cne-myhOSzp-mfLcdmfliOoT7_caDLv7/view?usp=sharing

A tentative program of the conference will follow in a few weeks.

We are looking forward to a slightly different conference and to welcome you there!

Kind regards

The board of the Norwegian Society for Philosophical Practice